

Recognize these headlines?

Who Else Wants To Discover The Secret
To Writing Headlines
That Begin With The Words ‘Who Else’ ?

“Do You Have What It Takes
To Write Powerful Headlines
Which Have Quotation Marks
And Are In The Form Of A Question?”

Everybody Laughed When I
Used An Old Headline Template To Create My Headline,
But When I Put It At The Top Of My Sales Letter.....

If not, it means you are unfamiliar with three of the most proven classical headlines of all time. If you do recognize them, you probably get the point, which is: why waste time trying to come up with the next best headline when you can swipe from the masters! And by swipe, I mean adapt these headlines (and other proven ones) to your own sales letters. Sentences and paragraphs can be copyrighted. Ideas cannot.

The above content was taken from my September 2005 Money Magnet newsletter, which in turn was originally taken from the May 2005 issue of Dan Kennedy’s No-BS Marketing Letter, which you can find more about (and sign-up for a three month trial) at <http://www.DanKennedy.com>. (You can download this particular newsletter of mine for free here: <http://www.marketing-medic.com/mm/mm-sep-2005.pdf>)

And having a good headline swipe file can make the difference between a mediocre website or a great one (this applies to offline direct response as well, of course).

If you want a quick way to test different headlines for your sales letters, nothing beats a good swipe file, with headlines that have stood the test of time and have proven tested results.

And that’s what this swipe file is about.

I’ve taken a number of the best material I’ve come across, including the classics, and put them all in this resource for you to use to boost your success. Try them out and see which ones work for your business, and which ones pull in the best response. It’s the most foolproof way to boost your profits with minimal changes to your copy.

David Olgyi of Olgyi & Mather fame once said that 5 times as many people read your headlines as they do your copy. It really doesn't matter whether he's right about the specific percentage. The fact is, a headline is an ad for your ad, so you had better get a great one if you want to add plenty of George Washingtons to your bank account.

But this swipe file isn't the ultimate one. You should buy a few small products from Boardroom, Phillips, Agora, and the other big direct mail companies so you can get on their mailing lists and build your own swipe files. You can get the best of the best for a tiny chunk of change. I've done it, and I have more sales letters coming in all the time. It's a great way to build your sales letter education, and at the same time, build your swipe file with the PROVEN moneymakers, the ones YOU can swipe and use for your own business, whether online or offline.

This resource is an ongoing work of progress on my part. I only have a percentage of my swiped headlines in here, strictly because of time constraints. But I want to help you, as many of you have helped me.

You see, I am constantly updating this resource. It's always a work in progress. If you want to get FREE updates of my headline swipe file, all you have to do is send a blank email to headline_swipes@getresponse.com, and you'll be sure to get the updates as they become available.

Now, a word about that: I will NEVER sell, rent, or trade your information. The only emails you'll get from me is when I release an updated swipe file. NOTHING ELSE. Not even a sales letter. I wanted to make an easy place for folks to keep up to date on this resource without them having to worry about me sending endless pitches or stuff they don't want. Plus, you can remove yourself from the list at any time (There is always an unsubscribe list).

Bear in mind, you don't have to get on my list. If you're happy with this swipe as is, then good for you! But this swipe file will grow tremendously as I add my swiped headlines in here and make them available to you.

By the way, to sign up for my Money Magnet newsletter for FREE, simply go to <http://www.marketing-medic.com/money.html> (same rules apply, I will never give out your info).

Correction from version 1 of this swipe file: After talking with Yanik Silver, he told me that one of the headlines I have listed as Dan Kennedy being the author was actually written by him. I want to give credit where credit is due, so you'll see that headline listed at the end of Yanik's headlines in this version. Sorry about that, Yanik ☺.

Ok, enough of all that. On with the headlines...
